Please find attached my response to your email message of today, which I copy below. I await your promptly required further communication.

Dear Mr. Manuel Asensio!

I have been informed by Becancour Silicon Inc. that we have to make a choice between you attending the conference and Becancour Silicon Inc., GK Kropfmuhl and Q-Cells. As these companies have been long-time supporters of the conference, I have to inform you regretfully that you cannot attend the conference. We will refund you attendance fee if already paid and send you the conference book free of charge.

Best wishes,
Harald A. Øye
Chairman
